Tears Of The Poor

By Al Behel

Thomas Carlyle once said, "The tears of the poor are the best epitaph of the dead." Long ago King Solomon stated, "The righteous considers the cause of the poor" (Proverbs 29:7) and "He that has compassion on the poor lends to the Lord, and that which he has given He will pay to him again" (Proverbs 19:17).

One of my college professors was walking across a parking lot with another student when they were approached by a man asking for financial help. The student reached in his pocket and gave the beggar some money. The professor, a bit taken back by the unquestioning generosity of the student, asked, "Do you always do that?" The student answered affirmatively. When asked why he would give to a beggar who might misuse the funds without questioning him, the student replied, "I would rather err on the side of mercy than on the side of justice."

Giving to the poor is like "lending" to the Lord. God will repay what the poor cannot repay. The story of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10:30-37) outlines three possible attitudes toward those in need. First, we may actively hurt or oppress them. Second, we may actively help them. And, third, we may completely ignore them. The robbers inflicted harm upon the traveler. The Samaritan showed active compassion in helping the man. But, the priest and Levite were simply indifferent toward him.

Few of us would inflict harm on the poor or needy., but ignoring them is easy to do. But it is not the spirit of Jesus who said He had come to preach good news to the poor. Solomon commended the "virtuous" woman as one who "stretches out her hand to the poor...she extends her hands to the needy" (Proverbs 31:20).

God does not bless me so I can be rich. He blesses me so I can be a servant. Each gift is a sacred trust. The extended hand is filled with compassion for the needy. Many around us are suffering. We are the body of Christ. That means we are his eyes that see their needs, his heart that feels compassion, and his hands that serve their needs. Many of those needs are for emotional and spiritual support as well as physical.

God has no other hands, no other eyes, no other hearts, no other servants to make a difference to our world. He is counting on us to deliver a message of redemptive love and grace, and to lift hearts and lives that are struggling around us.

To our members and visitors - Welcome to Clinton! We are glad you're here!

SYMPATHY

We extend our sympathy to James Nelson in the passing of his father, Randy Nelson. The family will receive friends today from 12 to 1 at Farmers Grove Baptist Church with the funeral to follow.

THE ELDERS CORNER

Beam Me Up, Scotty

We are living in troublesome times. We have the Covid-19 and Delta virus that are still a danger whether we have been vaccinated or not. Inflation is rampant. Climate change is a big issue; but some feel we are going at it too far. The population of America is growing by the hundreds every day due to our open border. It all seems so very negative.

But Christians, that is Christians in the New Testament sense, should not be discouraged. According to 1 Peter 2:9-10, we are part of a holy priesthood, part of a royal nation; we are part of a spiritual house. We are peculiar because we belong to God.

This place we live in today will be gone tomorrow. We sing a song, "This World is Not My Home" 684 in our song book. We have the promise of a better place to live. God has said in His word that He will never leave us. We need not fear what man can do to us. Hebrews 13:5. Paul tells Timothy in 2 Timothy 4:2 to preach, always be consistent, correct, instruct, being patient, always speaking the truth. This too we should do. We must be faithful unto death and then we will have a crown of life Rev. 2:10.

So all you Star Trekkers out there, Scotty can't help us but our God can and will.

-Dale

What Kind of a Place is Heaven?

By Edd Sterchi

From Rev. 21:9-22:5, we have an incredible description of heaven. Even though symbolic in language, we can still get an idea of what heaven is like.

—Heaven is a Beautiful Place (Rev. 21:9-27). When John tries to describe the most beautiful place which consists of nothing of the earth, he had to describe it in terms that we can relate to, thus he used precious gems, streets of gold, etc. There is no greater preciousness and beauty than what will exist in heaven.

—Heaven is a Bountiful Place (Rev. 22:1-2). John also describes heaven as a place where there is no want—everything is provided in the highest quantity and quality. In it is perfect life and health.

—Heaven is a Blissful Place (Rev. 22:3-5). John also wanted to remind us that heaven is a place of personal and permanent association with God—a place of peace and joy and love—forever.
