A Christmas Poem

By Darla Hill

Christmas comes but once a year,
Filling hearts with goodwill and cheer.
Manger scenes depict the birth
Of baby Jesus, God on earth.

But it's in His death we realize
His greatest gift was saving lives.
His mission was to seek the lost,
Even after He knew the cost.

By man He would be crucified
To pay our debt of sin, He died.
Raised to life on the third day,
Jesus is the life, the truth, the way!

So let us not just this day dwell,
But all the other days as well.

Thank you, Jesus!

To our members and visitors:
Welcome to Clinton! We are glad you're here!

Merry Christmas!
