Not On Sunday Night

By Gus Nichols

I love the church that Jesus bought
And know that it is right.
I go there every Sunday morn,
But not on Sunday night.
I love to sing the songs of God,
Such worship must be right.
This I do on Sunday morn,
But not on Sunday night.
I love to hear the gospel, too,
It gives me pure delight.
I hear it every Sunday morn,
But not on Sunday night.
May God bless our preacher, too,
And give him power and might.
And put a sinner in my place
On next Sunday night.
I'd go through mud, even snow,
Do anything that's right,
To be at church on Sunday morn,
But not on Sunday night.
Let all the others be on hand
To worship God aright,
But I just want my easy chair
And comforts Sunday night.
I know I really need more strength
To keep me in the fight
For help I come on Sunday morn,
But not on Sunday night.
True, the church can save the world
If its pure light shines bright.
I help it shine on Sunday morn,
But not on Sunday night.
Yes, all of us must surely die;
I hope I'll be doing right.
So may I die on Sunday morn,
And not on Sunday night.

Who Will Hear?

By Bob Prichard

"But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up" (2 Peter 3:10).

In the World Trade Center rubble after 9/11, President Bush rallied the people: "I can hear you! The rest of the world hears you! And the people ... who knocked these buildings down will hear all of us soon."

"The heavens shall pass away with a great noise." That great noise, literally "a roar," will come as the elements melt with fervent heat, and the earth and its works are burned up.

Jeremiah prophesied, "At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations" (50:46). After marching quietly around Jericho, on the seventh time, "Joshua said unto the people, Shout; for the LORD hath given you the city" (Joshua 6:10), a fearful noise as the walls fell.

At the day of the Lord, those who were deaf to the will of God will hear and understand that God was serious about His commands and promises. Will we hear?
